F. Freedman, 70 Lewis St,
Williamsburg, N. Y.

AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY
100 WASHINGTON SQUARE
NEW YORK

BROOKLYN, N.Y.
APR 27
12 PM
1919
STA. D

U.S. POSTAGE
3 CENTS 3

J. W. Freedman, Atty,
45 Goodwin Building,
Memphis, Tenn.

April 27, 1919
Sunday: —

Precious Hubby dear: —

As busy as a bee getting ready to start to my hubby dear. It is simply wonderful out! What luck, have you had to day? I'll bet you, too, have been terribly busy.

Ray & Mendal are here with the children. Gosh! hard that is same baby. Told Ray what you wrote about Helen, asking whether it was a doll or a baby.

Rose called me up - having been down to see Mum this afternoon. Mum was up for about an half hour to-day, and felt fine. That's encouraging, isn't it? Rose thinks Mum looks fine.

Well honey, only one more Sunday and then! Are you happy, lost. Bless me I dream. I am not going in to morrow - and honey, dear, that means no mail for me - Ooh! I don't know how I'll stand it till Tuesday. But your mail to Somers St, don't forget.

Now, dear, do you know what I was thinking? Instead of fitting the 3rd room as a dining room, as I suppose you intended, to fix it up as a living room, or sort of library. In that way you could perhaps use it for your practice, and it would too make a more comfortable place to start to my better by dear. It is simply wonderful out. What luck, have you done to day? I'll bet you, too, have been terribly busy.

Ray & Mendal are here with the children. Gosh! bad that is some baby. Told Ray what you wrote about Helen, asking whether it was a ball or a baby.

Rose called me up - having been down to see Mum this afternoon. Mum was up for about an half hour to-day, and felt fine. That's encouraging isn't it? Rose thinks Mum looks fine.

Well honey, only one more Sunday and then! Are you happy, love. Bless me I mean. I am not going in to worry - act honey, dear, that means so much for me. Gosh! I can't know how I'll stand it till Tuesday. But your mail to 70 Somers St, don't forget.

Anne, dear, as you know what Zeras thinking? Instead of fitting the 3rd room as a dining room, as I suppose you intended, to fix it up as a living room, or sort of library. In that way you could perhaps use it for your practice, and it would, too make a more comfortable resting place for you Evenings. The dining room, would be a stiff, uncomfortable room and you really could not have a nice lazy place in which to rest when tired. Let me know what you think about it.

Ray & Mendel send you their best regards. And Helen wants to see her uncle Jack. She is a dear. Ray says she is going to write, but when she does — Don't let you know.

Don't expect any more big letters. Soon — dear — soon.

Shall close with all my love, hope & desire and needs for you to-day — Oh! Lonny, precious, lovely, dear!

Everlasting,
Frances